

BARRETT IS MAILED. IN BROOKLYN PLAYHOUSES.

Young Thomas Egan's Slayer
Saved from Would-Be Lynchers.

Enraged Mob of Citizens in the Long Island City Court.

They Declare the Shooting Was Cold-Blooded Murder.

Corner Mothers, of Long Island City, started in this morning to investigate the shooting tragedy which occurred on a wharf land they were playing. The farmer, William Barrett, who lives at Maspeth, is at present in the Queens County Jail awaiting the result of the investigation. Around the body of the dead lad at his father's home in Blauvelt, crowds of men, women and children gathered all the morning.

The threats to lynch the alleged murderer, made again and again last evening, even in the presence of the officer who had him in custody, were being repeated, and it was feared that another attempt would be made to mob him.

Barrett claims that for over an hour a half a mob of several hundred, made up of men, women and children, who had him in custody, were being repeated, and it was feared that another attempt would be made to mob him.

The trouble which led to the shooting began in May last. Previous to that time the common, which is owned by the trustees of Calvary Cemetery, was open to everybody. It adjoins the cemetery and is a place where the people of the Star and Review, Barrett, resided it from the Cemetery Association.

It seemed to Barrett, who is a man of morose disposition, but who has worked hard all his life, that the people of the horse, cow, dog and cat for miles around Blauvelt, ran on his "common."

He admits, even to the coroner, that he purchased a heavy bulldog revolver, which he carried about with him, and that he was yesterday when he left his home at Maspeth and started for the cemetery.

There was one man in particular whom he was anxious to settle scores with, and that was John Egan, a young man who had been in the cemetery for some time, and who had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence. He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence. He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence. He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence. He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence. He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence. He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence. He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence. He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence. He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence. He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence. He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence. He had just about reached the edge of the pasture land, which has no fence.

"Prince Pro Tem" at the New Park Theatre.

"The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House.

"Prince Pro Tem" the latest effort of R. A. Barnett and L. S. Thompson, was produced for the first time at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

Empire Theatre. Miss Phoebe McAlister came to the Grand Opera-House, yesterday, to play the role of "The Prodigal Father" at the Grand Opera-House, yesterday. There is nothing in the opera that is strikingly new, but as the music is catchy and the scenery and costumes are bright and pretty, the piece will probably draw.

They Are Not Taken to the
Found, but Are Sold.

So Irate Brooklyn Citizens Complain
to Mayor Hood.

Many people in Brooklyn consider that they have suffered a great loss at the hands of dog-catchers. They say the latter capture their pet canines and sell the animals to tanners in order of taking them to the pound, where they might be redeemed, as is prescribed by law.

Some of those who feel this way called on Mayor Hood this morning to express their complaint. His Honor had arranged to see the dog-catchers, Peter McLean, to answer the charges of the people. McLean was present and explained to the mayor that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bradley, of 200 Halsey street, claimed the dog as theirs. They said that while their dog was being taken to the pound, it was sold to a tanner. They said that the dog-catchers were not to be taken to the pound, but were to be sold to tanners.

The Proprietor of the "Abbey"
Joins the Great Majority.

Retired Early Last Evening in His Usual Health.

Edward J. Sherlock, a familiar figure to the Brooklyn sporting fraternity, and well known as the proprietor of the "Abbey" on Fulton street, opposite Flatbush avenue, was found dead in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

His death had evidently occurred hours previous, while he had been in bed, and he had been lying on a pillow reading. His body was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Sherlock lived with his family at 158 Garfield place. The room in which he died was occupied in bad weather, or when he was detained late at night. He was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

His death was discovered this morning when Mullen went to Sherlock's room to get some of the supplies which he had ordered. He was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

Coroner was notified and Mrs. Sherlock was summoned to the morgue. Sherlock was about forty-seven years old. He had been in bed for some time, and he was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

His death was discovered this morning when Mullen went to Sherlock's room to get some of the supplies which he had ordered. He was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

Coroner was notified and Mrs. Sherlock was summoned to the morgue. Sherlock was about forty-seven years old. He had been in bed for some time, and he was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

His death was discovered this morning when Mullen went to Sherlock's room to get some of the supplies which he had ordered. He was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

Coroner was notified and Mrs. Sherlock was summoned to the morgue. Sherlock was about forty-seven years old. He had been in bed for some time, and he was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

His death was discovered this morning when Mullen went to Sherlock's room to get some of the supplies which he had ordered. He was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

Coroner was notified and Mrs. Sherlock was summoned to the morgue. Sherlock was about forty-seven years old. He had been in bed for some time, and he was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

His death was discovered this morning when Mullen went to Sherlock's room to get some of the supplies which he had ordered. He was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

Coroner was notified and Mrs. Sherlock was summoned to the morgue. Sherlock was about forty-seven years old. He had been in bed for some time, and he was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

His death was discovered this morning when Mullen went to Sherlock's room to get some of the supplies which he had ordered. He was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

Coroner was notified and Mrs. Sherlock was summoned to the morgue. Sherlock was about forty-seven years old. He had been in bed for some time, and he was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

His death was discovered this morning when Mullen went to Sherlock's room to get some of the supplies which he had ordered. He was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

Coroner was notified and Mrs. Sherlock was summoned to the morgue. Sherlock was about forty-seven years old. He had been in bed for some time, and he was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

His death was discovered this morning when Mullen went to Sherlock's room to get some of the supplies which he had ordered. He was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

Coroner was notified and Mrs. Sherlock was summoned to the morgue. Sherlock was about forty-seven years old. He had been in bed for some time, and he was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

His death was discovered this morning when Mullen went to Sherlock's room to get some of the supplies which he had ordered. He was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

Coroner was notified and Mrs. Sherlock was summoned to the morgue. Sherlock was about forty-seven years old. He had been in bed for some time, and he was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

His death was discovered this morning when Mullen went to Sherlock's room to get some of the supplies which he had ordered. He was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

Coroner was notified and Mrs. Sherlock was summoned to the morgue. Sherlock was about forty-seven years old. He had been in bed for some time, and he was found in bed in a little room over the cafe at 10 o'clock this morning.

Commercial Bank Depositors
Question Receiver Dykman.

Attorney General to Be Asked to Appoint an Associate Receiver.

The special committee of depositors of the Commercial Bank of Brooklyn, which met this morning in the office of Lawyer D. T. Lynch, 100 Court street, and then paid a visit to Receiver Dykman.

The committee was composed of D. T. Lynch, C. A. Haviland, J. M. Lyle, Richard Grant, Samuel Pettin and J. A. Sholly.

On the motion of Mr. Haviland the following resolution was sent to the Attorney-General of the State:

To His Honor, the Attorney-General, Albany, N. Y.: We, the undersigned, depositors of the Commercial Bank of Brooklyn, which met this morning in the office of Lawyer D. T. Lynch, 100 Court street, and then paid a visit to Receiver Dykman.

The committee was composed of D. T. Lynch, C. A. Haviland, J. M. Lyle, Richard Grant, Samuel Pettin and J. A. Sholly.

On the motion of Mr. Haviland the following resolution was sent to the Attorney-General of the State:

To His Honor, the Attorney-General, Albany, N. Y.: We, the undersigned, depositors of the Commercial Bank of Brooklyn, which met this morning in the office of Lawyer D. T. Lynch, 100 Court street, and then paid a visit to Receiver Dykman.

The committee was composed of D. T. Lynch, C. A. Haviland, J. M. Lyle, Richard Grant, Samuel Pettin and J. A. Sholly.

On the motion of Mr. Haviland the following resolution was sent to the Attorney-General of the State:

To His Honor, the Attorney-General, Albany, N. Y.: We, the undersigned, depositors of the Commercial Bank of Brooklyn, which met this morning in the office of Lawyer D. T. Lynch, 100 Court street, and then paid a visit to Receiver Dykman.

The committee was composed of D. T. Lynch, C. A. Haviland, J. M. Lyle, Richard Grant, Samuel Pettin and J. A. Sholly.

On the motion of Mr. Haviland the following resolution was sent to the Attorney-General of the State:

To His Honor, the Attorney-General, Albany, N. Y.: We, the undersigned, depositors of the Commercial Bank of Brooklyn, which met this morning in the office of Lawyer D. T. Lynch, 100 Court street, and then paid a visit to Receiver Dykman.

The committee was composed of D. T. Lynch, C. A. Haviland, J. M. Lyle, Richard Grant, Samuel Pettin and J. A. Sholly.

On the motion of Mr. Haviland the following resolution was sent to the Attorney-General of the State:

To His Honor, the Attorney-General, Albany, N. Y.: We, the undersigned, depositors of the Commercial Bank of Brooklyn, which met this morning in the office of Lawyer D. T. Lynch, 100 Court street, and then paid a visit to Receiver Dykman.

The committee was composed of D. T. Lynch, C. A. Haviland, J. M. Lyle, Richard Grant, Samuel Pettin and J. A. Sholly.

On the motion of Mr. Haviland the following resolution was sent to the Attorney-General of the State:

To His Honor, the Attorney-General, Albany, N. Y.: We, the undersigned, depositors of the Commercial Bank of Brooklyn, which met this morning in the office of Lawyer D. T. Lynch, 100 Court street, and then paid a visit to Receiver Dykman.

The committee was composed of D. T. Lynch, C. A. Haviland, J. M. Lyle, Richard Grant, Samuel Pettin and J. A. Sholly.

On the motion of Mr. Haviland the following resolution was sent to the Attorney-General of the State:

To His Honor, the Attorney-General, Albany, N. Y.: We, the undersigned, depositors of the Commercial Bank of Brooklyn, which met this morning in the office of Lawyer D. T. Lynch, 100 Court street, and then paid a visit to Receiver Dykman.

The committee was composed of D. T. Lynch, C. A. Haviland, J. M. Lyle, Richard Grant, Samuel Pettin and J. A. Sholly.

Earth and Cinders Block the Sidewalk Before the Gould Mansion.

Been There Months. Neighbors Say—
No Excavating Permit Filled.

Residents of that neighborhood have for several weeks been asking why the excavations were begun about the lot in front of the late Jay Gould's residence, 575 Fifth avenue.

A big pile of earth and cinders surrounded by four barrels and a board railing has, according to their neighbors, been lying there undisturbed for a period of nearly four months.

The excavations were begun about the lot in front of the late Jay Gould's residence, 575 Fifth avenue.

A big pile of earth and cinders surrounded by four barrels and a board railing has, according to their neighbors, been lying there undisturbed for a period of nearly four months.

The excavations were begun about the lot in front of the late Jay Gould's residence, 575 Fifth avenue.

A big pile of earth and cinders surrounded by four barrels and a board railing has, according to their neighbors, been lying there undisturbed for a period of nearly four months.

The excavations were begun about the lot in front of the late Jay Gould's residence, 575 Fifth avenue.

A big pile of earth and cinders surrounded by four barrels and a board railing has, according to their neighbors, been lying there undisturbed for a period of nearly four months.

The excavations were begun about the lot in front of the late Jay Gould's residence, 575 Fifth avenue.

A big pile of earth and cinders surrounded by four barrels and a board railing has, according to their neighbors, been lying there undisturbed for a period of nearly four months.

The excavations were begun about the lot in front of the late Jay Gould's residence, 575 Fifth avenue.

A big pile of earth and cinders surrounded by four barrels and a board railing has, according to their neighbors, been lying there undisturbed for a period of nearly four months.

The excavations were begun about the lot in front of the late Jay Gould's residence, 575 Fifth avenue.

A big pile of earth and cinders surrounded by four barrels and a board railing has, according to their neighbors, been lying there undisturbed for a period of nearly four months.

The excavations were begun about the lot in front of the late Jay Gould's residence, 575 Fifth avenue.

A big pile of earth and cinders surrounded by four barrels and a board railing has, according to their neighbors, been lying there undisturbed for a period of nearly four months.

The excavations were begun about the lot in front of the late Jay Gould's residence, 575 Fifth avenue.

A big pile of earth and cinders surrounded by four barrels and a board railing has, according to their neighbors, been lying there undisturbed for a period of nearly four months.

The excavations were begun about the lot in front of the late Jay Gould's residence, 575 Fifth avenue.

A big pile of earth and cinders surrounded by four barrels and a board railing has, according to their neighbors, been lying there undisturbed for a period of nearly four months.

The excavations were begun about the lot in front of the late Jay Gould's residence, 575 Fifth avenue.

A big pile of earth and cinders surrounded by four barrels and a board railing has, according to their neighbors, been lying there undisturbed for a period of nearly four months.

The excavations were begun about the lot in front of the late Jay Gould's residence, 575 Fifth avenue.

William Renick Perishes in a
Tenement-House Fire.

Went in to Save a Sick Woman Who Had Already Escaped.

The four-story brick tenement in the rear of 40 and 60 Henderson street, Jersey City, was burned early this morning. William Renick, who lived in the front house, 40, went into the burning building to rescue a sick woman, and after the fire had been extinguished, he was found dead in the room.

The burned buildings formed a double house, with an entrance and staircase in the center. They belonged to William Renick, who keeps a saloon in the front house, 40. He has lately been confined to his bed, and the sick woman, who was found in the room, was his wife.

The fire started in the room of Frank Smith, who lived in the room of 60, over the proposed bowling alley.

About 2 o'clock a lamp exploded in the room of Frank Smith, who lived in the room of 60, over the